INTRODUCTION TO THE NINTH EDITION

Over a period of four years since the 8th Edition of Rules governing All India Police Sports Control Board and All India Police Games published in July 2008, there have been a number of changes/additions in the sports arena governing conduct of sports/games. It gives me a great pleasure in presenting the revised and up-to-date edition of rules to police force of the country incorporating all the amendments/changes in the Rules for conduct of All India Police Games. The highlights of 9th Edition include augmentation of financial assistance for organising various sports events, introduction of reward money for medal winners in national championship, enhancement of reward money for medal winners in Olympic, Asian and Commonwealth Games in order to encourage the police sportspersons to put in their best and scale a new height of success including induction of events viz. Judo competition for women and All India Police Commando Championship. Archery, one of the popular competitions at national/international level has also been introduced in the sports calendar of All India Police Sports Control Board from the year 2012. In the present edition, all changes brought about up to 30th November, 2012 have been incorporated.

2. I am sure that the latest edition of Rule Book governing conduct of sports/games would be very useful for both, the host and the participants. I am also confident that police sportspersons would be encouraged to put in their best in the national/international sports arena in the light of new sports promotion incentives envisaged to them and they would continue to bring laurels to the country at all levels.

All these additions necessitated publication of a new Rule Book. In the present edition, all changes brought about till June 30, 2008 have been incorporated.

I am sure that the hosts organizing various games, referees and the players will find the new edition of the 'Rules' useful.

INTRODUCTION TO THE SIXTH EDITION

I have great pleasure in presenting to the Police Forces of the country the updated & revised edition of the rules governing the All India Police Sports Control Board and the All India Police Games. Such revision of the rules had become necessary in view of the many changes that took place since the last edition of 1988, particularly the adoption from this year of the 'split format' for the conduct of the All India Police Games and inclusion of weightlifting for men and some more athletic events for women in the Games. An effort has also been made at simplification of the rules while the quantum of financial assistance available from the AIPSCB to the hosts of different Games has been substantially augmented.

I am sure that police sportsmen & women would continue to bring glory to the country in international events, as they did recently at the World Police & Fire Games, Melbourne. For its part, the AIPSCB is ever keen to find newer means to upgrade police sports and honour police sportsmen. Let us all work towards the dictum that a good sportsman makes a good policeman'.

INTRODUCTION TO THE FIFTH EDITION

The fourth edition of the publication was issued in 1975. Since then, rules for most of the events like Hockey, Football, Volleyball and Gymnastics have been revised by their respective Federations. The same set of rules have been adopted by the organisation, necessitating the revision of the Rules Book. Inclusion of new events like Cross-Country Race in 1978. Women's events in the discipline of Athletics in early 1982 and inclusion of Judo from 1986 also called for revision and updating of these rules. This edition is, therefore, an effort to that end.

In the present edition, all changes brought about upto August 31, 1988 have been incorporated.

INTRODUCTION TO THE THIRD EDITION

There have been a number of changes since the second edition of the Hand Book of Rules for the All India Police Games was published in July, 1960. Aquatic competition was introduced for the first time in 1960 as an adjunct to the All India Police Games. The first Aquatic competition was held at Delhi in August 1960.

The All India Police Sports Control Board considered para 8 of the introduction to the First Edition and agreed that it was not necessary to lay down any specific ceremonial procedure for the Zonal Meets.

The Amateur Athletic Federation of India granted affiliation to the All India Police Sports Control Board in 1962 and since then All India Police Teams are participating in the All India Open Athletic Meets.

In view of many changes and increasing demand for more copies, it was decided to bring out this revised and upto date edition.

INTRODUCTION TO THE SECOND EDITION

There have been many changes since the first edition of the Hand Book of Rules for the All India Police Athletics and Sports Meet was published in January 1957. The name of the Meet has been changed to the All India Police Games, and the Central Sports Committee re-designated as the All India Police Sports Control Board.

The Conference of Inspectors General of Police held at Delhi in 1960 decided to introduce the All India Police Aquatic Meet as an adjunct to the All India Police Games, but to be held separately.

In view of the changes in the rules, the introduction of the All India Police Aquatic Meet and the finalisation of the detailed ceremonials to be followed at All India Police Games, it has now become necessary to issue a revised edition of this handbook.

INTRODUCTION TO THE FIRST EDITION

It was at the Conference of the Inspectors General of Police held at Delhi in 1950, that decision was taken in regard to the formation of an All India Police Athletics and Sports Meet Organisation, to promote sports and competitions in the Police Forces of the Indian Union in order to improve the esprit-de-corps and morale of the police forces in the country and particularly to establish better relations between the Police and the Public of India.

2. The IGPs elected a Committee called Central Sports Committee consisting of the Director, Intelligence Bureau as the Chairman, the IGP, SPE, the IGP, Delhi and the Commandant, CPTC, as members and one Deputy Director of the Intelligence Bureau as the Secretary. This Committee was to organise annual All India Police Athletics and Sports Meets and other All India Police Tournaments in various games. The Committee was to formulate all Rules and procedure for the smooth running of these Meets and Tournaments in order to improve the standards of the Police in this regard.

3. The Central Sports Committee unanimously agreed to accept and follow the Olympic Rules applicable to such competitions and tournaments and, therefore, accepted Buck's Book of Rules of Games and Sports (YMCA Publication) as its guide and has since been following these rules in regard to all the tournaments for sports and Games for the All India Police Forces that have since been organised. Besides these Rules, the Committee has from time to time formulated additional rules for the smooth and proper running of these tournaments. The Committee has now found it necessary to collate all the additional rules that have been formulated and publish them in this pamphlet for convenient reference.

4. In the first instance, in February 1951, the All India Police Athletic Meet was held at Cuttack (Odisha). Each state donated silver trophies for each of the 22 events that were competed for. A further donation from all States went towards providing of a large silver trophy for the Athletic Championship. The Orissa State-the host State for the first Meet, held at Cuttack donated the runners-up trophy. A special Silver Medal was donated by the Home Minister (Government of India) for the best athlete. Incidentally, this medal has since been donated regularly each year by the Home Minister (Government of India) and is a very coveted prize.

5. Soon after the first Meet, the Central Sports Committee was able to divide India into 4 Zones – the Northern, the Southern, the Eastern and the Central. This division was necessary in view of Hockey and Football Tournaments, which were first to be played out on a Zonal basis – the winning team of each zone competing later in the semi-finals and finals of the All India Police Hockey and Football Tournaments at the venue of the All India Police Athletic Meet. It was also decided that the Zonal tournaments would be held in rotation in their respective zones at a suitable venue in each state of that zone. Another decision taken was that the All India Police Athletic Meet, which would now include the semi-finals and finals of the All India Police Hockey and Football Tournaments, would be held in rotation Zonal- wise. Consequently, the second All India Police Athletics and Sports Meet was held at Lucknow (Central Zone) in February 1952 and from this year onwards the semifinals and finals of the Hockey and Football Tournaments were held along with this Meet. The 3rd Meet was held in February 1953 at Bangalore (Mysore) – the Southern Zone, and the 4th in 1954 was held at Jalandhar (Punjab) – Northern Zone. It was from this 4th Meet that the Central Sports Committee was able to organise an All India Police Wrestling Tournament in 4 weights only. This tournament was also held first in each zone along with the All India Police Hockey and Football Tournaments. The winners of each zone met at the All India Police Athletic Meet to compete in the semi-finals and finals of this wrestling tournament. In the 5th Meet, which was held at Ranchi (Bihar) in February 1955, the All India Police Wrestling Tournament was enlarged to all 8 weights. The 6th Meet was held at Gwalior (M.P.) Central Zone in February 1956 and included the semi-finals and finals of the Hockey, Football and Wrestling tournaments.

6. The Central Sports Committee has decided to introduce an All India Police Gymnastics competition from the 7th Meet onwards and it is hoped that an All India Police Volleyball Tournaments will be added from the 8th Meet onwards.

7. The tournament in Hockey, Football and Wrestling are held on a knock-out basis in each zone. The All India Police Gymnastics and Volleyball Tournaments that are yet to be started will also be held on a knock-out basis initially in each zone. The semi-finals and finals of the All India Police Tournaments in all these games are also held on a knock-out basis. In the Hockey and Football Tournaments, hard-liner trophies are provided for the winners of the two losing semi-finalists. Trophies for winners and runners-up of these tournaments have also been provided through donations made by all the Police forces in India – except the trophy for the winners of the All India Police Hockey Tournament, which was presented by the Raj Pramukh of the PEPSU State.

8. A tradition has been set from the very inception of these Meets and which is now carefully followed by all the host States either at the headquarters of the zonal tournaments or the headquarters of the All India Police Tournaments, for the games to be declared 'Open' by the Chief Minister of the State after the Olympic ceremony has been performed. Similarly, the Governor of each State (host) has declared the Games closed again after the closing ceremony, as laid down under the Olympic Rules.

9. It has also become a tradition for the host State to provide the spectators and the athletes with the entertainment of a Police Tattoo as a conclusion to the Games – soon after the closing ceremony and the prize distribution. It is also traditional for the host State to provide for a community Dinner (Barra Khana) as a 'Finale' to the Games and at which the Governor, the Chief Minister and other Ministers of the State Cabinet, the officials and all the competitors dine together

10. The host states of both the zonal tournaments as well as the All India Police Tournaments provide all visiting teams with accommodation, lighting and conservancy and make arrangements under their personal supervision for the messing of all the teams. The visiting teams, however, pay for their boarding charges at fixed rates to the caterers appointed by the host state. The host state also provides transport for each visiting team from the railway station to the venue of the Meet and it has now become traditional to provide the visiting teams with transport for sightseeing purposes. The host state also provides either a cinder or a grass track for the Athletic Tournament and playing fields with standard equipment for the Hockey and Football tournaments. The host state also provides a wrestling ring or platform with all the equipment and lighting necessary for the tournament. In future 'host state' will provide all equipment necessary for the Gymnastics and Volleyball Tournaments that are envisaged.

11. A very high standard of discipline is maintained in the camp where all the visiting teams are accommodated.

12. So far six Meets have been held and at each of these, the host State produced a souvenir in which the messages of the Prime Minister, the Home Minister and other messages received from various dignitaries have been published.

Opening Ceremony

The Chief Guest arrives. He is received by the DGP/IGP of the host State/CPO. The band salutes the Chief guest. The DGP/IGP presents members of the Jury of Honour and Appeal, the members of the Organising Committee and Managers of the participating teams. The Chief Guest is then conducted to the rostrum.

2. The Opening Ceremony commences with the march past in columns of three by the athletes/players. The Chief Guest is requested by the DGP/IGP to take the salute. The participating teams in the march past maintain an interval of fifteen paces between one another. Members of a particular contingent should wear identical dress, be it tracksuits, blazers, pant/vest etc. Each contingent is preceded by a person carrying a placard bearing the name of the team and is led by the Captain of the team carrying its flag (3'x2' on a 8' pole). The placard bearer marches five paces ahead of the flag bearer who in turn is five paces ahead of the team. The teams march past in alphabetical order of their names except the host team, which comes at last. The contingents pay compliments to the Chief Guest when they approach the rostrum by turning their heads to the right and by dipping their flags to the right at an angle of about 50 degree, on the command 'Eyes Right' given by the Captain of each team. After passing the rostrum, the Captain gives the command 'Eyes Front' and brings his flag to carry position.

3. Each team, after completing its march, forms up in column of threes behind its placard and flag around the track facing inward in arch format. The band stops as the last team comes to a halt. After a brief pause, the band resumes playing and the teams march inwards and come to a halt in a semicircle facing the Tribute of Honour and stand at ease.

4. The DGP/IGP delivers a short speech of welcome from the rostrum. At the conclusion of his speech, the DGP/IGP requests the Chief Guest for his speech and thereafter request him to declare the meet open in the following words:-

"I have the honour to request Shri_____to proclaim the All India Police _____, Championship open."

5. The Chief Guest declares the Meet open with the words : "I declare the All India Police_Championship open."

6. Immediately a fanfare of trumpets is sounded, the teams come to attention and All India Police Sports Control Board flag is unfurled near the Tribune of Honour. Simultaneously, the flags of the participating States/CPOs (6'x4') hoisted around the area are unfurled. As soon as the fanfare is over, pigeons and balloons are released and general jubilation is expressed by firing of Feude-joie, very light pistols (multi-coloured), crackers, fireworks and playing of joyous music on the 'Shehnai' and beating of drums.

7. The Captain of the host State team gives the command "Team Captains- Quick March". The Captains carrying their flags march forward fifteen paces, forming an inner semicircle in front of the Tribune of Honour. The Captain of the host State team advances further to the foot of the Tribune of Honour where he comes to a halt and plants his flag in the ground. The other captains also rest their flags on the ground. The Captain of the host State then mounts the Tribune of Honour and facing the Chief Guest raises his right hand while holding a corner of his flag with the left hand. The members of all teams raise their right hand and the captains dip their flags as the Captain of the host team pronounces the following oath on behalf of all the assembled athletes/players.

"We swear that we will take part in All India Police _____ Championship in fair competition, respecting the regulations, which govern them and with the desire to participate in them in the true spirit of sportsmanship for the honour of our nation and the glory of sports."

8. On the conclusion of the oath, the flags are raised and the team Captain of the host State steps down from the Tribune of Honour. The team Captains rejoin their respective teams on the words of command "Team Captains – About Turn, Quick March".

9. The Chief Guest leaves.

10. The athletes/players march away in column by the shortest route in the same order in which they entered the stadium followed by the band.

N.B. (i) In case the host so decides, a cultural programme can be arranged (as the last item of the opening ceremony) in the ground after the teams have marched away. Accordingly, the Chief Guest is also requested by the host to witness the cultural programme.

(ii) In case of the opening ceremony of the Athletics Championship, a torchbearer (usually a renowned sports person himself) takes a lap on the track before lighting the flame in the stadium, which would burn till the conclusion of the Athletics Meet. The DGP/IGP of host State receives the flag and replies. "This duty I willingly undertake to perform".

9. The Chief Guest departs.

10. At the command of a drumbeat, the flag bearers form up in a line on the right of the Tribune of Honour. At the time of the second drumbeat, the competitors fall in behind these rows of flags, one file behind each flag. There shall be no distinction of teams while falling in. The competitors from different States/CPOs should mingle and march out in the true spirit of sportsmanship of friendly competition, waving out in friendship to the spectators as they go out of the arena.

N.B. In case the host so decides, a cultural programme can be arranged (as the last item of the closing ceremony) in the ground after the teams have marched away. Accordingly, the Chief Guest is also requested by the host to witness the cultural programme.

Barra Khana

The host of the Games organises a community dinner ('Barra Khana') usually on the closing day of the Meet in which all the competitors participate along with senior officers, organisers, referees, judges etc. In view of the large gathering on the occasion, it becomes difficult for the host to cook the food for all the participants at one place in a centralised manner. A better alternative for the host is to give the necessary amount to each participating team calculated at a specified rate per person. Each team would then get the food of its choice including specialities of their particular region/State cooked and bring it to the venue of the 'Barra Khana' for consumption by its members. The host would thus be required to get food prepared only for the guests, senior officers, judges, referees etc.

2. At the venue of the 'Barra Khana', a separate space/stall is allotted to each team for laying their food and consuming it. It is, however, customary for senior officers to visit all stalls apart from their own team, mingle, with the players and boost their morale.

3. In case the host has decided to organise a cultural programme on the occasion, care should be taken that it is held after the 'Barra Khana' and not before it. In other words, the players should first take their food in time and then witness the cultural programme.

Victory Ceremony for individual Events

Medals shall be presented to the winners of the first, second and third positions immediately after the conclusion of a particular individual event. An announcement may be made over the loudspeaker for the medal winners to assemble at the appointed place for medal ceremony. The managers of the respective teams should ensure prompt presence of medal winners at the spot.

2. The medal winners should be made to fall-in in a single file with three ceremonially dressed females carrying medal trays in front of them and the buglers/trumpeters behind them. Another male escort should place himself at the head of the single file and march all of them to the victory stand to the accompaniment of playing of tunes by the band suitable to the occasion.

3. The medal winners stand behind the victory stand at their respective places while the three females carrying the medal trays stand at the flank at right angles to the victory stand with the one carrying the Bronze medal being nearest to the victory stand.

4. Simultaneously, the announcer requests the chosen dignitary to award the medals. The dignitary is escorted by a senior police officer/member of the Organising Committee and as he reaches the victory stand, the medal winners climb the victory stand. The lady carrying the bronze medal tray then steps forward, the escort lifts the medal and passes it on to the dignitary who presents it to the winner by placing it around his/her neck. The same process is repeated for silver and gold medal winners.

5. The fanfare of trumpets/bugles is sounded as the dignitary and the escort turn around and stand in front of the victory stand to facilitate taking photographs. Thereafter, the dignitary is escorted back to his seat and the medal winners led by the ladies are marched away.

NB: For team games, however, the medals as also the trophies to the winners will be distributed at the time of the closing ceremony of the Games.
